Sing into Spring!

A Message from Rev. Kim

Each year we eagerly anticipate UUCWC's Auction. This incredible event displays the talents, tastes and transitions of our membership (from Roy's woodworking to fine foods by many cooks and bakers, to the Friedman's beloved home goods gifted to us after their move). While some might think this is a social gathering, a fundraising effort, an opportunity to support a local justice organization (if we are to raise enough funds), it is also — and perhaps most clearly — our congregation in practice.

We do not come to church. We do not just attend or receive — all those passive ways so many others experience religion. We engage in each other's lives, celebrate and support one another, and enjoy deepening our relationships in whatever ways we can.

Of course, for two years we were not able to practice congregational life like we always had. But we got creative, showed our flexibility, and learned new skills. And now, here we are: Changed but familiar. Evolved but still holding on to the core of who we are. And our Auction, this year's Auction, is a perfect celebration of this.

As you look through these pages, I encourage you to bid on something new for you this year: A dinner with strangers who might become friends; a sermon that you've been waiting to hear; a gift that you know will be appreciated for its distinctive character. This isn't only a social gathering, a fundraiser, a justice effort. At our Auction, we display our love for, our engagement with, our beloved UUCWC.

The 2022 Auction, Sing into Spring!, is a Fun-raiser and Fundraiser all in one! Through the Auction offerings provided by our generous members and local businesses, you will find opportunities to create community and celebrate life, while supporting UUCWC financially.

AUCTION PROCEEDS HELP US FULFILL OUR MISSION

Auction proceeds are a significant source of funding for UUCWC's annual operating budget. And if there is a surplus of auction revenues this year after meeting the targeted budget amount, 50% of that surplus will be donated to UrbanPromise Trenton, a social justice organization that enriches and empowers young people.

UrbanPromise believes in the power of opportunity, providing urban youth and teens with a chance to believe in and build a positive future. Their mission is to equip Trenton's children and young adults with the skills necessary for:

- Academic Achievement
- Life Management
- Spiritual Growth

UrbanPromise Trenton opens up a new world and allows city youth and teens to choose a better path for their future.

GET READY TODAY!

You can take these steps now to prepare for the online auction:

1. Beginning April 17, pre-register at www.UUCWCauction.asimobile.net. Simply create a password and provide credit card information. You can switch to another card at the point of purchase, and your information will be deleted at the end of the auction.

You'll be able to get a sneak peek at the items being offered along with photos or a graphic representation for each one to help you make your decisions.

2. Familiarize yourself with the two types of auction items:
 - Fixed Price (100s, 200s, 300s) — Includes meals, custom foods, some physical items, and events. Purchase these items on the spot at the indicated price. You must purchase each item individually rather than filling up a “cart” with multiple items.
 - Competitive (400s, 500s, 600s, 700s) — Includes services, specialty food items, cultural memberships, gift cards, and exciting vacation rentals. Bid on these items, then check back throughout the week to see if you've been outbid, so you can enter a new bid.
3. Select and prioritize the items you'd like to bid on or purchase, so you'll be ready when the auction goes live. And if you're teaming up with others to bid on a big-ticket item, designate one person to bid for your team.

You can also find this auction book on the UUCWC website: www.uucwc.org/spring-auction/

LET THE BIDDING AND BUYING BEGIN!

You can bid or buy anytime beginning Saturday, April 30, 9:00 am, through Saturday, May 7, 11:59 pm. Grab your fixed-price items first, so you won't be disappointed, then bid on competitive items.

ONLINE NAVIGATION TIPS

- The online site highlights special items and also indicates items that are currently without any bids — so you might be in luck! And keep your eye on the front page for updates.
- If a fixed-price item is sold out, it will no longer appear.
- In addition to searching by item number, you can search items by category such as Cultural, Dinners, Games/Sports, Home Accessories, Jewelry/Health/Beauty, Trips, and Workshops.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER THE AUCTION?

- For competitive bids, you will be emailed a list of your winning bids, so you can confirm your purchases.
- For meals, events or services, purchase certificates will be emailed or mailed to you.
- For physical items, the Auction Team will help facilitate the transfer of the item from the donor to you.

Thank you for your participation in the 2022 Auction and good luck!

100 • Support the Auction • Raise a Paddle!

If you are able, please donate to the auction in lieu of a registration fee and “raise a paddle” to help defray costs for this online event. Your support of this fund will help us meet UUCWC's financial goals for the current fiscal year.

Auction proceeds support our church annual operating budget and, after our targeted budget amount is met, 50% of those proceeds are designated for social justice programs.

Everyone is a winner when the paddle is raised!

Originally owned by one of UUCWC's most beloved and longest-serving members, this antique, glazed clay jug was donated to the UUCWC auction in 2007 by Creed Myers. It resurfaces here 15 years later, thanks to a thoughtful anonymous donor. This was one of a number of antique jugs stored in the Myers farmhouse attic. When he donated this jug, Creed told the story of carrying water to field hands using this jug. Each field hand would take a swig. Creed didn't have corks, so the jugs had corn-cob stoppers in them at the time. Nice condition, no cracks or chips, sturdy and heavy and won't tip over. 12 inches tall, about 7 inches wide, holds approximately 1 gallon, and comes with a sentimental part of UUCWC history.
