

“The Things We Don’t Tell Each Other”

A Diversity and Spirituality Network Exploration

February 4, 2017

Since 1995, the Diversity and Spirituality Network (DSN) has offered one-day Explorations and weekend conferences at venues that include the National Multicultural Institute, the Organizational Development National Conference and Temple University. DSN members explore the dynamic nexus between diversity and spirituality through experiential events and written reflections.

What would you like to know about others that you’ve always been too reluctant to ask? And what would you like others to know about your own visible or invisible differences? What are the things we don’t usually tell each other that – if known – would help us understand each other better?

Through dialogue, experiential exercises and group reflections, we’ll explore how we see ourselves and how others see us. In the process, we’ll break down some of barriers that keep us separate. And learn a range of strategies for building bridges across difference.

Cost: $95 suggested donation (includes one-year Diversity and Spirituality Network Membership). DSN members attend 2017 DSN Explorations free.

Location:
Universalist Unitarian Church
268 Washington Crossing-Pennington Road
Titusville, NJ 08560
